South Course

Renowned for its extensive PGA tournament history, the par 70, 7,400-yard South Course at Firestone includes some of the toughest, most famous and most enjoyable holes in golf. A championship course from its conception, the South Course has hosted more than 70 professional tournaments, including 18 years of the WGC-Bridgestone Invitational, 36 years of the World Series of Golf, and three PGA Championships. It is the current home of the Kaulig Companies Championship.

The South Course was originally designed by Bert Way and debuted as the inaugural course at Firestone Country Club in 1929. In preparation for the 1960 PGA Championship, Robert Trent Jones Sr. undertook an extensive redesign, adding over 50 bunkers, two ponds, and increasing the course length to 7,165 yards while adjusting the par to 70.

The South Course at Firestone has hosted numerous prestigious tournaments, including three PGA Championships in 1960, 1966, and 1975. This history solidified its reputation as a championship course, further highlighted by hosting the American Golf Classic from 1961 through 1976. It's no wonder the South Course has been ranked among the top 100 courses in the U.S.

North Course

The North Course at Firestone Country Club, designed by the renowned Robert Trent Jones Sr., has been a cornerstone of the club since its opening in 1969.

This picturesque par 72 course features water hazards on over half of its 18 holes, winding seamlessly around the Firestone Reservoir. It offers a diverse and challenging layout with both water holes and tree-lined fairways. The North Course is a true shot-maker's delight, with doglegs, pristine bunkers, and large, quick greens that demand precision.

Whether you're a scratch golfer or play for leisure, the North Course offers a welcomed respite from the ordinary. You'll find more forgiveness than the championship South Course, though ample hazards call for honest risk assessment and precision to avoid penalty strokes. The North Course has not only provided a stunning and challenging playing field for members and guests but has also been the venue for significant tournaments. It hosted the American Golf Classic in 1976 and the World Series of Golf in 1994, demonstrating its competitive pedigree.

Fazio Course

The Firestone Fazio Course (formerly known as the West Course) was built in 1989 and redesigned by Tom Fazio Architects in 2021. A par 70 playing just under 7,000 yards from the back tees, the opening nine winds around the perimeter of the South Course, while the closing nine moves west and climbs in elevation. The Fazio Course is the current home of the Ohio Senior Open.

The Fazio Course features wide open undulating fairways and large, subtly breaking greens. Few trees restrict tee shots, though ample bunkers frame sightlines, demanding accuracy and distance control to stay out of the sand. No matter your skill level, each round on Fazio is sure to delight, from the scenic, elevated vistas to each strategically designed hole.

Overnight Accommodations

The Villas at Firestone Country Club offer the perfect blend of privacy and comfort, located right beside each of our championship golf courses. Each Villa features four separately keyed guest rooms with private baths, while sharing a spacious common area complete with a dining space, billiards, and a balcony showcasing some of the Club's most desired views.

Inside each private Villa room, guests enjoy a king bed, private bath, wireless internet, workstation, and a Lavazza coffee machine with a selection of coffees. Each room also includes its own dedicated walkout, opening to panoramic views of the courses—so you can stay close to the game while enjoying superb accommodations and privacy.

For golfers looking for all the nostalgia that is Firestone Country Club, the Clubhouse offers dormitory-style rooms flanking the Men's Locker Room—an homage to more than 70 years of golf history. With shared wet areas and a welcoming community space, these Club Rooms are where game watching, card playing, good drinks, and golf stories bring the tradition of Firestone to life.

Dining

At Firestone Country Club, dining is every bit as memorable as the golf. Our restaurants are designed to bring people together over exceptional food, warm hospitality, and settings that celebrate the tradition and prestige of Firestone. Whether you're a member, a guest, or simply joining us for a special evening, you'll find an experience that impresses from start to finish.

La Vetta Steakhouse sets the tone for indulgence with an elevated yet welcoming atmosphere. Signature steaks, fresh seafood, and seasonal specialties are crafted with care and served with bold flavors and refined presentation. Pair your meal with selections from the extensive wine list or a handcrafted cocktail, and enjoy a dining experience that feels both celebratory and comfortable.

For something more relaxed yet equally exceptional, the 1929 Grille offers a wide-ranging menu prepared daily by our talented culinary team. With its inviting atmosphere, it's the perfect spot to unwind after a day on the course. Just steps away, the Legacy Pavilion extends the experience outdoors, where cocktails and cuisine are paired with beautiful views and a casual, open-air vibe.
